

ABOUT ME

Hello! I'm

CLARENCE HOOKS

A local musician whose parents exposed him to a wide variety of musical styles, from Jazz to Classical to R&B, and a lot of Gospel. He was blessed to have the opportunity to work with Indy Youth (Jesus Gang), The Voices of Love choir, and The Garment of Praise, as well as to serve as the director of the Billy Graham Crusade Kids choir in Indianapolis. Clarence started writing songs in his early teens as a creative and emotional outlet and has enjoyed collaboration with artists such as Joe Hart, A'Ishah May, Musulyn Traver, and the effervescent Evelyn Rai.

Clarence plays Keys and bass at Lakeview Church and loves to worship his God. For the past three years, he enjoyed playing with the Two Eight Band, touring Cities and towns throughout Indiana, performing music from Michael Jackson, Earth, Wind, and Fire, Paramore, Los Lonely Boys, and others, as well as contemporary Christian music to build awareness of and support recovery communities in those locations.

A longtime dream of Clarence is to write and record music with all three of his nephews, and be looking for that project.
